

To our Friends from Media:

Is the May 2007 midterm poll fair, honest, peaceful and credible political exercise?

This is the lingering question that Task Force Bantay-Eleksyon '07 will try to give light as it shares its election monitoring experiences in its 2-day Election Monitoring Assessment Conference on July 3-4, 2007 from 9:00am to 5:00 pm, at the Humabon Room, Sulo Hotel, Matalino St., Quezon City (near Philippine Center).

Different election stakeholders under the Consortium on Electoral Reforms including Bantay Eleksyon Area Coordinators and volunteers and representatives of CER network organizations will come together to present the overall election observations on the conduct of the recently concluded May 2007 mid-term national and local polls and to draft its plan of action for 2010.

Task Force Bantay-Eleksyon '07 is a citizen election monitoring project created by the Consortium on Electoral Reforms (CER) which aims to comprehensively observe the overall conduct of the May 2007 midterm polls from the election preparation up to the proclamation of winners and the filing of election protests. It specifically tends to monitor the performance of the Commission on Elections and its deputized agencies in ensuring honest, fair, peaceful and credible political exercise.

We are inviting you to cover this event from 9:00 am to 12 noon of July 3 when a public forum will be held.
